

GUY GOODFELLOW

STUDIO Guy's team of 10 includes four interior designers and three architects. STYLE Perfectly English decorating rooted in tradition. Guy studied architecture and is fluent in classical detail. ADDED INSIGHT Guy's own fabrics – his 'Fez Weave' is perhaps the best known – are stocked in his charming showroom in Langton Street, SW10. PROJECTS The studio is currently working on a Grade I-listed house in London, a Palladian villa in Battersea and also a Georgian country house in Oxfordshire. // guygoodfellow.com

HUGH LESLIE DESIGN

STUDIO Chelsea-based Hugh works with two assistants and an architect. STYLE Sophisticated and elegant, with varied historical references combining to create a timeless look. ADDED INSIGHT Hugh trained at Sibyl Colefax & John Fowler and worked for John Stefanidis and Mlinaric, Henry and Zervudachi – a fine pedigree. PROJECTS The studio has an international focus – recent work has included a house in Zurich and waterfront home in Maine, along with several projects closer to home in London. // hughleslie.com

BELOW LEFT The kitchen in this K&H Design project features Rose Uniacke's 'Plaster Cone' pendants and Svenskt Tenn fabrics on the chairs

BOTTOM RIGHT Fabrics, furniture and quirky colour are teamed expertly by Kate Guinness

JOANNA WOOD

STUDIO Joanna leads a team of 14, including a mix of interior architects and designers, in her Belgravia studio. STYLE Joanna has always been determined not to have a specific look, but her studio certainly excels at creating striking contemporary residences. PROJECTS Recent months have seen them undertaking work on a house in a Gloucestershire village, as well as a flat in London. // joannawood.com

JR DESIGN

STUDIO Jane Ormsby Gore works with three designers in her team of six. STYLE The studio has a wonderful understanding of what makes a house work, a room comfortable and a detail absolutely sing. ADDED INSIGHT Jane's career and life is nothing if not storied – from her partying with The Rolling Stones and working at Vogue in the Sixties to honing her eye with the renowned antique dealer Christopher Gibbs. // jrdesign.org

KATE GUINNESS

STUDIO Kate works with two other designers in a studio of four people. STYLE She is adept at creating mood and atmosphere, with an eclectic mix of fabrics and classic furniture shapes. ADDED INSIGHT Kate started at JR Design, after working in costume and set design for theatre and opera. PROJECTS Recent work includes a Grade II-listed Georgian farmhouse in Wiltshire and a castle in Yorkshire. LATEST DISCOVERY 'I love Katherine Lloyd's shell lamps ("Nassa Lamp", £780; katherinelloyd.co.uk). They are made to order, so you can have something bespoke.' // kateguinness.co.uk

- NEW ENTRY -

K&H DESIGN

STUDIO Katie Glaister and Henry Miller-Robinson have five designers and architects working with them at their studio in west London. STYLE There is a confident feel to their interiors, from the choice of materials to the use of pattern. Expect a huge amount of detail. ADDED INSIGHT Katie worked in marketing and sales and Henry in commercial construction. PROJECTS The studio's recent work has included a loft apartment in Knightsbridge, a house in Notting Hill and a duplex apartment in Belgravia. // kandhdesign.co.uk

